Obituary.

Mr. Isaac Prince, aged 105 years, departed this life October 19, 1913. We are sad indeed to give up such a good friend and neighbor from this world, for we realize there are few like him, but our loss is his eternal gain. He had been feeble in health for several years but bore his suffering with Christian fortitude and was patient, loving and kind to all who ministered to him during his illness. A faithful loving father, a noble and worthy neighbor from us has gone and we sadly miss him as we journey here below but we'll meet him, gladly meet him, when to glory we shall go. Often did he say every one ought to be prepared for death for it is sure and life is uncertain. He has called his children to his bedside and asked them to promise him to always be good. Oh! may they ever keep that promise and strive to meet him in glory where there is no more pain and parting. He had been a faithful member of the Christian church for over fifty years. He leaves four sons and four daughters and a host of grandchildren to mourn their loss. His remains were laid to rest at the West Point Cemetery. May Gods richest blessing rest on the bereaved family.—Written by his granddaughter, Fannie Pugh.

A Consumptive Cure.

A cough that bothers you continually is one of the danger signals which warns of consumption. Dr. King's New Discovery stops the cough, loosens the chest, banishes fever and let you sleep peacefully. The first dose checks the symptoms and gives prompt relief. Mrs. A. F. Merts, of Glen Ellyn, Iowa, writes:—"Dr. King's New Discovery cured a stubborn cough after six weeks' doctoring failed to help." Try it, it will do the same for you. Best medicine for coughs, colds, throat and lung troubles. Money back if it fails. Price 50c & $1.00. All druggists, by mail, H. E. Bucklen & Co. Philadelphia or St. Louis.

Stock Law

How long will men of a civilized community plead for their neighbors or the government to feed their stock?

Did you ever try giving to a man year after year, and finally cease to give, and he would become your enemy. A strange freak of nature, yet it is in us. I know men in Lawrence County that does not own over 2 acres of land and it is fenced and cultivated, he owns one to two cows and some hogs, and these cows and hogs have been making their summers living on his neighbors land, and he thinks it is an awful thing on him that his neighbors will now no longer feed his stock. "O, consistency thou art a jewel." Time honored custom goes a long way and we are apt to think them right, and any opposition to them wrong.

Now what does Stock Law do for a man? It just asks every man to take care of his own stock. Is there any thing wrong about that?

When you buy a piece of land and pay for it, is it not yours? The timber on it is yours and if I come and cut a tree off if you say I am trespassing, and so I am, and you can prosecute me for it. Well if the timber is yours, is the grass not yours also? And if I use your grass to feed my stock, is that not trespassing too? I leave it with you to say. I do not believe that you will find any law that liberates men to let their stock run at large, it is only a usage.

I believe in two years from this date that more than nine tenths of the people of Lawrence County will be well pleased with Stock law and will see things in a different light than they now see it.

In my community there lives a man who owns a great many hogs, more hogs than he can feed and the consequence is they have broken into fields and have destroyed more corn this fall than they are worth if sold. Oh you say men ought to make good fences. A hungry hog will go through a good fence. I agree with you, a man ought to make a good fence, good enough to secure his own stock, and let the other fellow do the same. I meet quite a number of men that say "well I am not hurting about the Stock Law for myself, but what will poor widow women and renters do?" They are awfully anxious about these pathetic circumstances, but I can't find where they have ever opened their hearts to contribute a penny to the poor.

Stock Law means better stock, more milk and butter at home, less fencing, and a permanent pasture.

Yours very truly,
A Lawrence County Citizen.

In this cause it appears by affidavit that the defendant, Robt. Cornell is justly indebted to the plaintiff, and is a non-resident of the State, so that the ordinary process of law cannot be served on him, and an original attachment having been levied on his property and returned to me, it is therefore ordered that publication be made in the Lawrence Democrat a newspaper published in the city of Lawrenceburg, Tennessee, four consecutive weeks, commanding the said Robert Cornell to appear before me at my office in Summertown, on the 22nd day of November 1913 and make defense to said suit, or it will be proceeded with ex parte.
